Meet Integrity Health & Safety

Integrity Health & Safety is Australia's leading Indigenous-owned provider of Health & Safety products, training and software. We are Supply Nation certified and accredited by the New South Wales Indigenous Chamber of Commerce and the First Australian's Chamber of Commerce & Industry.

This means that procuring from us assists you meet your Indigenous procurement targets, be it via the Federal Government Indigenous Procurement Policy, NSW Government Aboriginal Procurement Program, your membership of Supply Nation or an Indigenous Chamber of Commerce, or your Reconciliation Action Plan.

Integrity Health & Safety is led by Liam Harte and Brad Goodwin, two Indigenous intensive care paramedics who both served in the ADF here and overseas, and are passionate about improving outcomes for Indigenous people through employment, education and health. They are also both board members of Local Health Districts in NSW as appointees of the NSW Minister of Health.

Our customers

By engaging with us, our customers can tick two boxes: leading brand, competitively priced, expertly delivered products/services that compliance dictates they must have for their organisations, AND assisting our customers achieve their supplier diversity targets by contracting with a certified Indigenous business thereby fostering the growth of an economically independent Indigenous community.

Our offering

Through our partnership with Winc, Australia's largest online retailer, most of our products can be purchased as part of your normal Winc account procurement process.

Your Business Benefits

When you engage with Integrity Health & Safety, your ROI includes:

Social Impact

Our relationship with you enables us to give back to the community by sponsoring Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander nurses and midwives for CPR courses, leadership training, and Immunization courses so that they can build healthcare capability in their communities, such as delivering flu vaccinations in a culturally safe and appropriate way.

“ Training Aboriginal health workers makes sense because we are already working with Aboriginal children living in remote locations and are trusted by the communities where we live. ”

Gail Yarran, Registered Nurse from Derbarl Yerrigan.

Most importantly, when an organisation engages with Integrity Health & Safety, it will be purchasing lifesaving equipment from practising medical professionals who use these products daily to save lives.
